Anand Institute Management always strives to emerge out something new for best of the students. During this lockdown, this is our goal to keep helping the students out there. Anand Institute of Management keep uploading various knowledge sharing session and webinars for continue development of students. On 4th July, 2020 Dr. Bindiya Soni conducted a webinar on “How to face an interview” via Facebook live. The session started at 10:30 A.M. During this session, Madam covered various aspects of an interview and how to face it effectively.

Firstly, Madam conveyed the importance of interview for anybody’s career. It’s essential to prepare for an interview beforehand. It is never advisable to walk into an interview without preparation, knowledge and interview etiquettes. As an organized student, you have to check what you require to carry out the interview successfully and should keep yourself ready with the requirements. Madam also explained about the types of interviews in which different aspects were covered i.e. Pre-placement talk, Aptitude test, written test, Group Discussion, personal interview etc. Knowing proper job interview etiquette is an important part of successful interviewing. Madam conveyed few tips for how to dress, what should bring to a job interview, how to greet the interviewer, how you communicate etc. These small things can all make a big difference in the outcome of the interview.

The session was concluded with several do’s and Don’ts while facing an interview which will definitely help students in their career. Over 300 views were recorded and students from all over Gujarat who were watching the webinar positively commented and liked it. During the webinar the students got to learn new areas and opportunities and they came across many concepts which will be helpful to them throughout their career.
